

Tick Saliva

Ticks secrete saliva with anesthetic properties so that the animal or person cannot feel its bite. Additionally, they secrete anticoagulant (to maximize blood flow), immunosuppressive, and anti-inflammatory (antihistamine) substances into the feeding area.

lymestats.org