

Dogs

Lyme symptoms in dogs are: limping, shifting weight, increased fatigue, hyperthermia (increased body temperature), decreased appetite, increased water consumption, increased urination, and joint pain. If left untreated, dogs may suffer from multiple organ system damage, for example, in the kidneys, liver, etc.

lymestats.org