

Dr. Beth Bell

Dr. Beth Bell, Director of the National Center for Emerging and Zoonotic Infectious Diseases at the CDC, has stated that the CDC will continue preferential treatment of outmoded IDSA Lyme guidelines, which deny the existence of chronic Lyme, despite citizen requests to utilize up-to-date IOM, GRADE compliant, and NGC-approved ILADS guidelines. Dr. Bell is also a member of the IDSA.

lymestats.org