

Lyme in the Southeast?

A study of patients in the Southeastern United States resulted in the recovery of live Borrelia burgdorferi sensu stricto and Borrelia bissettii-like strains. The patients had been CDC-negative and treated with doxycycline prior to the study.

lymestats.org