

Manganese

All known organisms need iron to survive, except Lyme Borrelia. Instead of iron, the bacteria substitute manganese to make an essential enzyme, thus eluding immune system defenses.

lymestats.org