

80% by 2020

Due to climate change and vector expansion, some experts predict that 80% of the Canadian population or over 28 million people will be exposed to deer ticks by 2020.

lymestats.org