

Immunity Subversion

In a 2015 UC Davis study, Borrelia burgdorferi were shown to initially trigger an immune response in infected animals which lasts for only a short while. The Lyme-causing bacteria quickly cause structural abnormalities in lymph nodes and other lymph tissues that prevent immunity from future infections including that from influenza.

lymestats.org